DIRECTOR'S OVERVIEW

The Bartholomew County Youth Services Center offers a variety of services for Bartholomew County children, youth and families. We are committed to making the community a safer place by reducing the risk of repetitive delinquent behavior. Each of the services offered by the Center has a different function however; they all share the same mission.

Our mission is to respond to the community's needs with a continuum of care, programming, services, and advocacy for minors under the jurisdiction of the Court in settings that are safe for both the community and youth.

We treat each youth with respect and dignity, holding them to appropriate behavioral expectations through a system of rewards and consequences that are applied in a fair, firm, and consistent manner that is conducive to their personal growth and development.

Brief descriptions of the services offered by the Center are as follows:

I. DETENTION Secure placement designed for youth awaiting the court process who are considered to be a danger to public safety, likely to re-offend, or flee before their court appearance. Youth may also be sentenced to serve time in secure detention for up to 90 days for under the age of seventeen and for 120 days for youth seventeen years of age and older.

Detention programming focuses on teaching young people about choices and consequences. Residents receive six hours of educational instruction at the Center year round, five days per week.

In Indiana, the Department of Correction has the responsibility for providing standards for compliance for secure detention. Detention is designed to hold 18 youth between the ages of 9 and 21.

II. SHELTER Non-secure, temporary, emergency placement designed to serve status offenders, abused and/or neglected juveniles, children of families in crisis and children and youth awaiting out-of-home placement. Shelter residents attend public school and remain active in community-based activities to the greatest extent possible.

The Indiana Family and Social Services Administration provide rules and licensing for shelter programs. The Center's license allows for up to ten youth between the ages of 10 and 18 to remain in shelter care for up to twenty days.

III. DROP OFF By local policy, the Center will accept any youth taken into custody by a law enforcement officer within Bartholomew County. Intake Officers are available 24 hours a day. The intake officer interviews parents and other interested parties to determine if the youth should be placed in detention or

- shelter, or released to a parent or guardian. This service allows law enforcement officers to return to patrol immediately.
- IV. DAY TREATMENT A non-residential intensive program designed to reduce the likelihood of further delinquency by juvenile offenders. Program components include group counseling and role play, goal setting, life skills training, parenting education, supervised public school attendance and case management. Participants of this program reside at home and participate in programming at the Center six days per week. Successful program completion requires completion of assigned cognitive curricula, vocational education and training, and money management. Parents are required to attend parenting education and parent support group sessions. Aftercare services are provided for 30 days. Day Treatment has the capacity to serve up to ten local youth and their families at any given time.
- V. AFTERCARE/COMMUNITY LIAISON This provides electronic monitoring and home detention services to juveniles referred by the Court. Juveniles referred to this program have committed offenses that do not necessarily require secure detention of the youth but warrant an increased level of supervision along with the provision of individual and family support services. These same services may be provided to referred juveniles that have returned to the community from a Department of Correction placement. Electronic monitoring services through this program are also provided to juveniles in the Day Treatment program and juveniles who participate in the Community Transition Program.
- VI. TRANSITION PROGRAM This service provides transition services to youth who are sentenced to secure detention for thirty days or more. Whenever a youth is taken from his/her community for a period of time, there is a loss of connect with the community, the school, etc... Rather than just release the youth to his/her home without the benefit of resources and support, the Bartholomew County Youth Services Center offers transition services to these youth. These services include the Aftercare/Community Liaison in the home at least three days a week, a mentor, and the Center's Education Liaison to assist the youth's transition back into the school system. The youth's parents, as well as the youth's probation officer, are also involved in the youth's transition program.
- VII. JUVENILE WORK CREW This service gives the court and probation an option as a graduated sanction, which may keep the youth out of secure detention or an extended probation term. Work Crew consists of youth who have been ordered by the court or Court Services to perform community service hours. The work crew does community projects for various agencies, non-profit groups, churches, schools, senior citizens or persons with disabilities. Youth learn work ethics and a variety of skills while serving in the community.

VIII. COGNITIVE BEHAVIORAL PORGRAMS The Center has several staff that are trained to facilitate various evidenced-based cognitive programs such as Thinking For a Change, Aggression Replacement Training, Girl's Moving On, Cognitive Behavioral Intervention/ Substance Abuse, and Parent Project®. Families can be referred to one or more of these programs by the Bartholomew County Probation Department, Bartholomew County Circuit Court, or Bartholomew County Department of Child Services.

BARTHOLOMEW COUNTY REFERRALS IN 2012

Any child taken into custody in Bartholomew County can be brought to the Youth Services Center for Detention or Shelter placement if necessary or be returned home. Youth are referred for everything from the most serious delinquent offenses, to being a child in need of services (CHINS). The following chart reflects the outcomes of all Bartholomew County children and youth brought to the Center in 2012. In the following graph, "Drop Off" refers to youth returned to their parent's care without immediate placement at the Center.

MINORITY REPRESENTATION OF BARTHOLOMEW COUNTY YOUTH

The overrepresentation of minority youth, particularly in secure detention, has become a significant concern in this country, receiving attention at the local, state and national levels. In response to this concern, the graph below contains information regarding the percentage of populations by race served at the Center.

Using data from the 2009 online Kids Count in Indiana Data Book, the population by race for ages 0-18 in Bartholomew County were as follows:

White	85.3%	Asian	3.9%
Black/African American	3.2%	Mixed (2 or more races)	N/A
Hispanic (of any race)	7.3%	Other	N/A

^{*}The above statistics are from 2009 as this is the most recent updated information

The numbers of Bartholomew County youth by race and the programs in which these youth were served are as follows:

REFERRALS BY OFFENSE

Juveniles come to the Youth Services Center for various delinquent acts or because they are considered to be a child in need of services (CHINS). Often a youth will have multiple offenses and will be listed only by the most serious offense charged at the time of admission. Detainment for most offenses is a judgment call made by the Center's intake officers. The list presented below reflects the offenses for youth brought to the Center in 2012.

FACILITY CAPACITY, CENSUS AND AVERAGE LENGTH OF STAY

Capacity at the Center differs by program. The rated bed capacity for Detention is 16, Shelter is 10, and Day Treatment is set at 10. Detention and Day Treatment can exceed capacity if necessary, but Shelter is limited to 10 by the operating license provided by the Family and Social Services Administration.

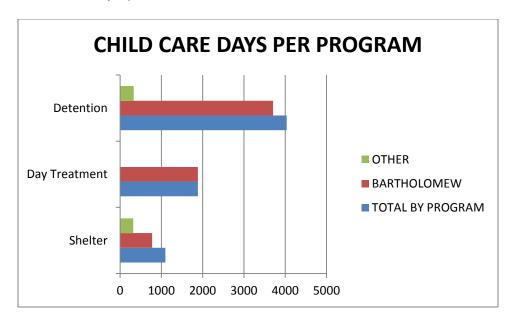

Census at the Center is determined by looking at bed utilization and the average length of stay of each youth. Shelter youth are limited by license to a maximum stay of 20 days while Detention has no such licensing limitation. The length of stay for detention youth prior to sentencing depends upon the length of time required for them to be processed through the juvenile justice system. However, once sentenced, youth in Detention are limited to a maximum sentence of 90 days for youth under 17 and 120 days for youth 17 and older. Day Treatment is designed in such a way that a youth will typically need to spend a minimum of 120 days in the program.

The graphs on the following page represent the average daily census and the average length of stay by program for youth served at the Center in 2012 for Bartholomew County.

HOUSING YOUTH FROM OTHER COUNTIES

Other counties requested access to Detention and Shelter services at the Center. In 2012, seven counties requested these services. These seven counties placed 16 youth in Detention and 18 youth in Shelter.

DAY TREATMENT

Day Treatment provides adjudicated youth with an opportunity to remain in the community while they participate in an intensive program that seeks to address their current inability to appropriately function within society. Most Day Treatment youth have a history of serious legal difficulties. They typically experience challenges in succeeding in school and have participated in other interventions. Without Day Treatment, these youth would often be placed outside the home in a Department of Correction or other residential placement.

Day Treatment is a group-based program centering on effective decision-making and accountability for one's actions. Youth receive assistance from staff as they provide support for one another and attempt to act in a more appropriate manner within the community. Supervision begins immediately after school until 8:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. On weekends, youth participate from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays. Sundays are utilized as family time, a day in which youth and their parents are to spend time together utilizing skills learned throughout the week. While in their parent's home these youth are monitored with various levels of intensity including electronic monitoring. The level of monitoring required is determined based upon the level of the program the youth is on and the functioning level of the youth and their family.

Programming consists of group sessions with role-play, study time, recreation time, life skills training, and participation in cognitive curricula that include Thinking for a Change (Problem Solving/Decision-Making), Aggression Replacement Training (Anger Management), and Cognitive Behavioral Intervention/Substance Abuse for youth who have been identified as having substance abuse issues. Youth participate in money management and vocational training, as well as a variety of educational outings and community service projects that allow staff to assess the functioning of the youth while they are in the community.

In May of 2012, in collaboration with the Juvenile Probation Department, the Day Treatment program was revamped in order to better meet the needs of the youth and their families. At the beginning of 2012 there were three (3) participants in the program that had been referred in 2011. One (1) of those youth successfully completed the program in January and continues to live and work in the community. The other two (2) participants were unsuccessfully discharged. Both of these youth served time in detention.

There were thirteen (13) youth referred to the Day Treatment program in 2012. Two (2) of those youth successfully completed the program and are living in the community with an approved family member. Five (5) of those youth were unsuccessfully discharged from the program. Four (4) of those youth that were unsuccessfully discharged served time in detention and one (1) was committed to the Department of Corrections. There are currently six (6) youth participating in the Day Treatment program.

AFTERCARE/COMMUNITY LIAISON

The Aftercare/Community Liaison program is collaboration between the Youth Services Center and Bartholomew County Community Corrections that provides services to juveniles placed on home detention/electronic monitoring. These youth typically face multiple challenges that include a lack of appropriate or adequate parental support and supervision, and limited access to opportunities that support positive youth development. The Aftercare/Community Liaison models effective supervision and interpersonal skills for parents and other family members and seeks to create access to and support opportunities that promote positive youth development. These opportunities may include such things as employment, participation in appropriate leisure time activities, and opportunities for community service.

The Aftercare/Community Liaison provides services on a 24 hour per day, seven-day per week basis. These services include visits to the juvenile each week that take place at the juvenile's home, school, and/or workplace, and contacts with parents/ guardians and other appropriate family members.

Juveniles referred to this program have committed offenses that do not necessarily require secure detention but warrant an increased level of supervision. In addition, the Liaison provides electronic monitoring and other limited services for juveniles during the first three months of Day Treatment and at other times during program participation on an as needed basis.

The ultimate outcome sought by the funding of this position is the reduction of recidivism among juvenile offenders placed on home detention/electronic monitoring. A secondary goal is to ensure completion of a high school education either through graduation from the young person's home school or through completion of the GED and participation in gainful employment.

During the 2012 funding cycle, the Aftercare/ Community Liaison served 81 Bartholomew County juveniles on home detention/electronic monitoring. Of these 81, 61 cases or 75% were closed with a successful completion of the program. Twenty (20) cases or 25% were closed as unsuccessful. Seven (7) juveniles remain active. Of those 20 cases, two (2) youth were committed to the Department of Corrections, four (4) youth were given time to serve at the Center in detention, and seven (7) youth were placed in a non-secure facility.

TRANSITION/AFTERCARE SERVICES

In November 2002, the Center began looking at investing in another new service to juvenile offenders and their families. Research indicates that offenders are more likely to succeed when provided with aftercare or reentry support services upon release from incarceration. In addition, Indiana state statute mandates that any young person sentenced by the Court to serve a sentence in a juvenile detention facility be provided with transition services after completion of his/her sentence. In response to this research and the state's mandate, in November 2002 a team of four juvenile justice professionals participated in a weeklong training session on the critical elements of re-entry and aftercare services. This training was provided, at no cost to Bartholomew County, through a collaboration of the National Institute of Corrections and the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention.

Beginning early in 2004, utilizing existing juvenile justice staff and volunteer mentors, the Center began offering transition/aftercare services to a number of local youth. Those eligible for this program are youth serving a sentence of 30 days or more in detention, youth referred by the court as they return to the community from an out-of-home placement, and youth referred by parole upon completion of a Department of Correction placement. Services revolve around the formation of a transition team that includes the family and are provided for up to 90 days. Youth remaining on formal reporting probation after serving a sentence in detention are not referred for Transition/Aftercare Services.

Members of the Transition/Aftercare Services team consisting of the Juvenile Referee, the Juvenile Probation Supervisor, the Aftercare/Community Liaison, the Center Director, the Day Treatment Program Coordinator, and the Center's Education Transition Coordinator meet regularly at the Youth Services Center. The purpose of these meetings is to review the progress and challenges in implementing this program and to discuss current and upcoming referrals.

There were four (4) referrals made to transition services in 2012. Of these four (4), two (2) youth or 50% voluntarily accepted the services. Two (2) youth or 50% declined. Out of the two (2) that accepted services, both successfully completed and have not committed a new offense.

JUVENILE WORK CREW

The Bartholomew County Youth Services Center assumed responsibility of juvenile work crew late in 2010 and operated this program throughout 2012. Youth that are assigned to juvenile work crew are referred by the court or juvenile court services as a form of graduated sanctions. Such referrals often replace time in secure detention and/or additional time on probation while providing the youth an opportunity to improve the community and develop a stronger work ethic.

There were many different projects and activities completed by juvenile work crew in 2012. Among them include, but are not limited, to:

- Assisted Humane Society with clean up and repair of Pet Cemetery.
- Assisting with the Scottish Festival.
- Picking up trash from county streets
- Picking up trash around the Columbus Landfill
- Assisting Bartholomew County Fairgrounds with Clean-up

- Assisted with spreading mulch, rocks and pulling weeds for the Columbus Landfill.
- Assisting PAAL with Cleanup and Maintenance

In 2012, Juvenile Work Crew served 152 youth. Those youth provided the county with 1,216 hours worked within the community, or 152 eight-hour workdays. This program saved approximately $12,160, which would have been the cost if this work had been completed by community agencies at $10 per hour.

COGNITIVE BEHAVIORAL PROGRAMS

Several of the Center's staff are trained to facilitate evidenced-based cognitive curricula such as Aggression Replacement Training, Thinking for a Change, Girl's Moving On, Parent Project® and Cognitive Behavioral Intervention for Substance Abuse. In 2012, the Center's staff provided approximately 2101 hours of instruction to youth and parents or guardians. According to the 2010 Medicaid Rehabilitation Option's Provider Manual, instruction for skills training and development, and addition counseling in a group setting, it would cost approximately $36,592 to provide 2101 hours of cognitive behavioral instruction of this nature.

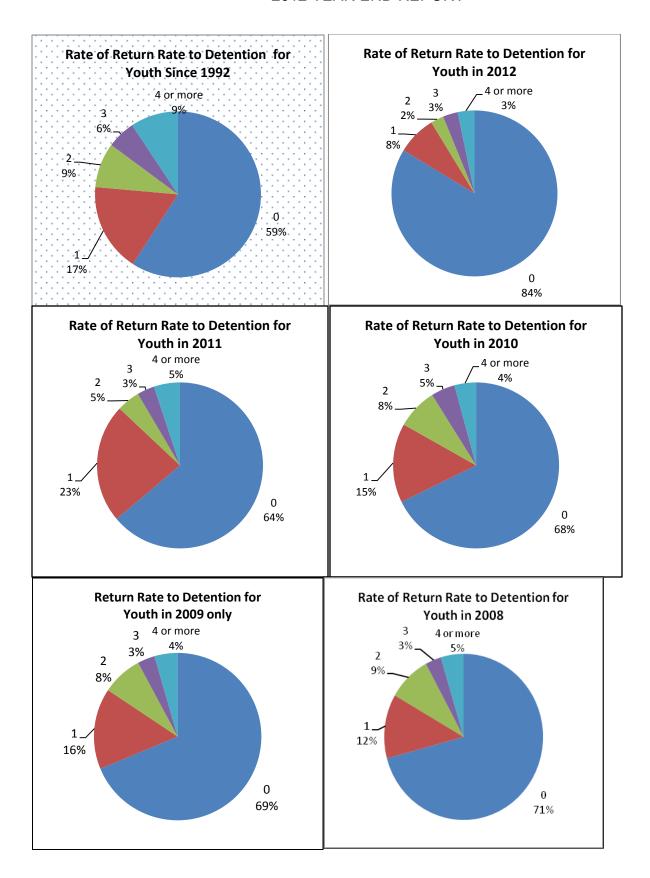

YOUTH RETURNING TO DETENTION

Reducing the number of youth returning to the Center's programs remains a primary goal of the Center. The following graph reflects Bartholomew County youth by the number of times these juveniles have been held in secure Detention since the Center opened in 1992. No value judgment is made on the nature of the offense or the reason youth may or may not have been detained. Since its inception, the Center has tracked the rate of return for all youth served at the Center. Over the course of 20 years of operation, 59% of all youth served in Detention have not returned to the Center a second time. Over this same 20 years, the percentage of youth placed in Detention four or more times has increased from 7% to 9%.

It is difficult to compare Bartholomew County's data to federal or state statistics, as most facilities do not keep records on rates of return to detention. This is due to the fact that detention is not typically used for the purpose of providing an intervention but rather as a facility for housing youth in order to ensure public safety and the youth's appearance in court.

A non-return rate of more than fifty percent would indicate that the Center's programs are having an immediate and positive effect on the youth being served by these programs. The Center strives to determine what changes can be made or added to its current programming to increase the number of youth who do not return to the Center, and more importantly, who do not continue to commit crimes in the community as either juveniles or adults.

The pie graphs below reflect the rate of return to detention for all youth served at the Center since its inception in 1992 (left) and the rate of return to detention for those youth served during the previous five calendar years.

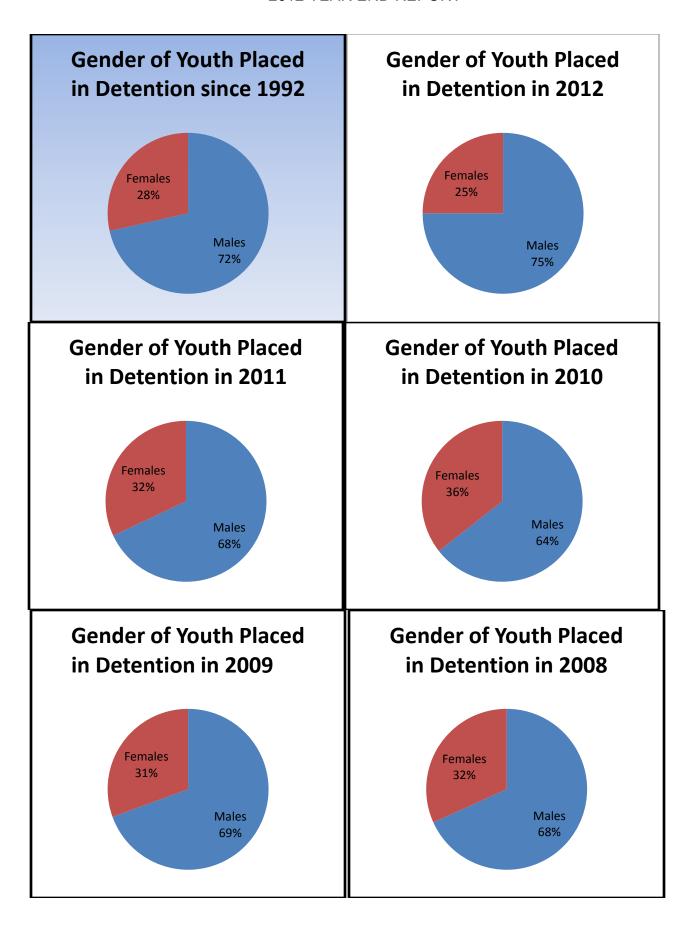

AGE OF YOUTH AT YOUTH SERVICES

The Bartholomew County Youth Services Center is committed to serving all youth in need of its services. The age of a youth often has an impact on the way the Center's services are provided. The table below shows the age of the youth who received some type of services at the Youth Services Center in 2012.

GENDER OF DETENTION YOUTH

The Bartholomew County juvenile justice system has focused on creating gender specific programming within Bartholomew County. In 2010, a gender specific curriculum for females called Girls Moving On. Over the years, there has been a heightened awareness that females are entering the criminal justice system at an increased rate. The pie graphs on the following page reflect the rate of male and female residents placed in detention since its inception in 1992 (left) and the rate during the previous five calendar years.

PARENTING EDUCATION AND INVOLVEMENT

The Center's Director, Assistant Director, two Intake Officer, Day Treatment Program Coordinator, and Youth Care Workers are trained facilitators for the Parent Project®, a parenting training program specifically designed to help parents prevent and intervene in the most destructive of adolescent behaviors. Parent Project® was designed for high-risk children and youth facing challenges that include poor school attendance or performance, emotional and behavioral problems, drug and alcohol use, suspected criminal activity, gang affiliation, and arrests. This design makes the Parent Project® an appropriate parenting education curriculum to be used in working with the parents of participants in the Day Treatment Program and other youth involved with juvenile probation and the juvenile court. Recently, Parent Project® referrals have also been opened up to the Bartholomew County School Corporation and some school officials have been utilizing this Parent Project® participants meet for 12 consecutive evenings, once a week. A workbook, A Parent's Guide to Changing Destructive Adolescent Behavior, accompanies all twelve sessions. This activity based, culturally sensitive curriculum maximizes learning, increases retention, and is facilitator and parent friendly.

Thanks to support provided through an Indiana Department of Correction grant, Bartholomew County continues to be able to train two additional individuals to facilitate the Parent Project® curriculum each year.

Since its inception, the Center has offered daily visitation for Detention and Shelter residents. This is done in an effort to facilitate and support healthy and appropriate family interaction since the majority of young people residing at the Center will eventually return home. In addition, staff at the Center strive to serve as an example for parents, modeling for them how they might appropriately interact with and exhibit care and concern for their children.

2012 DETENTION ART RESIDENCY

In 2012, the Bartholomew County Youth Services Center once again brought in an artist to conduct an art residency. This year local artist Bobby K. Owens worked with the residents in detention to create a mural in the Center's gym. The results continue to provide the youth with not only some insight as to the talents that they do have, but provides them an opportunity to learn leadership skills as well problem solving skills.

LICENSING

The Department of Correction found the Center's Detention program and facilities in full compliance in 2012 with a score of 100% on mandatory standards and 98.14% on all non-mandatory standards. Compliance for Detention is based on 173 standards that require primary and secondary documentation. Maintaining this documentation involves a major commitment of administrative staff time and effort.

The Center's Shelter services are licensed by the Indiana Family and Social Services Administration. Standards for Shelter are based on a different set of rules that do not require any prepared documentation, but rather rely on a yearly spot check for compliance. The Center was also compliant with all Shelter licensing requirements for the year 2012.

PERSONNEL

The Center hired 12 new employees in 2012. This is two (2) more than was hired in 2011. However nine (9) of those hired in 2012, still remain at the Center in some capacity. Relief Youth Care Workers at the Center cover for employees on sick, vacation, and personal leave and for staff involved in training. Relief staff constitutes a substantial savings compared to paying full-time staff overtime for this coverage. Part-time Youth Care Workers are essential staff at the Center and are very difficult to retain. They are typically employees who are working for the Center only while they are in engaged in college studies or seeking full-time employment. However, when full-time positions open at the Center, part-time employees and relief staff have the first option to apply and are often hired for these positions.

The chart below shows the positions for which new employees were hired in 2010, 2011, and 2012. This chart does not reflect transfers of staff from one position to another within the Center, unless the staff member was promoted to a supervisory position.

Costs for services at the Center vary from one program to another and include the majority of the direct costs of serving program participants. However these figures do not include the full costs of employee benefits and the facility's utility and maintenance costs that are paid from the County Commissioner's budget.

Per Diem rates for operating the Center's programs and services in 2012 were $110.00 for Detention, $140.70 for Shelter for Bartholomew County referrals, $106.64 for out-of-county referrals, and $87.48 for Day Treatment. The 2012 average per diem rate for Detention in the State of Indiana was $128.00

In 2012 the Youth Services Center provided, for Bartholomew County youth, 3,704 childcare days in Detention, 777 childcare days in Shelter and 1,885 childcare days in Day Treatment compared to 3,468, 1,239 and 1,364 respectively in 2011. The following chart reflects what the costs would have been to provide these services to Bartholomew County youth at another facility assuming an average per diem rate based on detention centers throughout the state and the average cost of group home/shelter facilities throughout the state. The alternative to Day Treatment would be out-of-home placement that has been estimated at $180 per day. This figure is based on the average cost of institutional out-of-home placement care for a delinquent youth throughout 2012.

ADVANTAGES OF LOCAL PROGRAMMING

Since its inception, the Bartholomew County Circuit Court and Center administration have continued to expand the services available to Bartholomew County youth through the Center. The development and expansion of services has brought to the community program opportunities that may not be available in other communities. Some examples are as follows:

- The Center uses a group based, positive peer culture program through which participants learn and develop new skills to assist them in achieving future success in the community. Only two other detention facilities in the state are known to offer similar therapeutic programming.
- The Center, in partnership with the Bartholomew Circuit Court and Court Services, follows the principles and practices promoted by What Works. This has led to the utilization of empirically validated practices, tools, and curriculums that are proven to be effective in changing offender attitudes and behavior and reducing recidivism.
- Multiple cognitive curriculum classes for both youth and families are offered locally as a part of the Center's Day Treatment program. Because these are group-based classes, many additional youth and families are referred for participation by probation and the courts. In 2012, approximately 152 additional youth and families respectively participated in these curriculums.
- Daily visitation with immediate family members is available to every resident at the Center in an effort to encourage sustained family contact and communication. No other center in the state is known to offer daily visitation to every resident.
- A continuum of options is available to the Court with various levels of supervision and monitoring depending upon need in order to keep juveniles in the community and engaged with their families. These options mean that any payment for services resulting in revenue remains in Bartholomew County. This also means that re-entry services and the costs of these services may not be necessary.
- In addition to the aforementioned economic value, there is also value in having employment available for more than forty (40) professional and paraprofessional members of staff at the Center, as well as internship, practicum and other learning opportunities available for students attending local institutions of higher learning.
- Center residents, while placed outside the home, continue to be able to participate in many local, community-based activities and opportunities while at the Center.

Without these local options, there would be many hardships for both families and the community. Visitation for families would be much more limited, if accessible at all, depending on the availability of transportation to family members. Transportation of juveniles to and from court hearings and other professional appointments would rest solely with the Bartholomew County Sheriff's Department. This situation would result in costs above and beyond the per diem charged by the county incarcerating Bartholomew County juvenile offenders. In addition, Bartholomew County Sheriffs' deputies would be less available for law enforcement duties in our County, or additional personnel would need to be hired for law enforcement. These are considerations that the community and Bartholomew County government must keep in mind as they plan for the future.

MOVING FORWARD

On January 1, 2013 the Youth Service Center will be operating under the Court Services umbrella. Bradford Barnes will be the Director of Court Services and Anita Biehle will be the Operational Director for Youth Services. This union will provide for improved services for the community as the combined pool of knowledge between Probation staff, Community Corrections staff and Youth Services staff will be utilized to provide a more comprehensive approach to making the community safer.

In 2013, Youth Services will search for additional funding for cognitive behavioral programs that can be extended to include all of Region 14. The Center also plans to gear staff training more towards Trauma Informed Services, mental health and case management. The Center currently has a person on staff that can provide training for existing staff and new hires in Juvenile Specific Suicide Prevention. Youth Services will also be serving as a pilot site for the Performance Based Standards Project for Indiana detention centers. For the first time in its twenty years of operation, the Center will have a quality assurance program in place so not only will the Center be looking to increase its services to community, but will strive to ensure that the quality of these services remains high.

PARTNERSHIPS

The mission of the Bartholomew County Youth Services Center is, in no small part, supported by different organization within the community. Their cooperation and friendship over the years has greatly assisted the Center in providing its residents with the services they need. While it would be difficult to list all those organizations that have supported the Center over the years, below is a partial list:

Agency on Aging Bartholomew Consolidated School Corporation Bartholomew County Court Services Bartholomew County Extension Office (4-H) Bartholomew County Sheriff's Department Columbus Area Arts Council Columbus Parks & Recreation Columbus Police Department Bobby K. Owens Doug Babb First Christian Church of Columbus Housing Partnership Inc. Human Services, Inc. Indiana Youth Law T.E.A.M. Prison Ministries-Burt Powell United Way

IN CLOSING

In closing, 2012 proved to be a year of achievement for the Youth Services Center. At the 2012 Indiana Juvenile Detention Association's Summit, held in Lafayette Indiana, Lisa Gray was named the Detention Staff of the Year for the State of Indiana. In October at the National Partnership for Juvenile Detention Symposium in Nevada, Jason Bowser received the Grimm-Hill Member of the Year Award for his contributions while serving on the Critical Issues Committee at the national level. Also in October, the Youth Service Center celebrated 20 years of serving youth and families. Guests on hand for the event included all past directors, Court Services staff, community leaders, past and present Center staff, and past and present residents and their families. Bobby K. Owens dedicated the gym mural that he and the residents completed. It was a celebration of achievement and commitment for future achievements. Finally, in December the Center recognized Sara Burriss as the recipient of the Bob Rader Detention Support Staff of the Year and for the second year in a row, John Pressley was recognized as the Bob Rader Detention Line Staff of the Year.
